POLITICAL
GOOD NEWS
BY METCALF.

He Tells Washington This Coast is Safe.

California May Give "Over Fifty Thousand."

Davis Starts on His Tour. Fairbanks in Iowa.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON. Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor, got back to Washington today after his trip to California and his campaigning trip in the Middle West. Mr. Metcalf was pleased because the people of California, irrespective of party, did nice things for him while he was at home.

Mr. Metcalf braced up the immigration service on the Coast while he was there, and attended to a good many other affairs concerning his department. He is so satisfied with the political outlook that he considers it a waste of words to talk about political conditions, but he did have this to say about the conditions in California:

"My State will give the Republican ticket 50,000 plurality and probably more. All indications point that way. In Los Angeles county, the Republican stronghold of the State, registration this year is 20,000 in excess of two years ago, and it is the general agreement that this increase represents the Republican strength. There is strong Republican sentiment all over the State."

"I do not know about the other Pacific Coast States, but I am informed that the majorities they will give will be overwhelming Republican."

OTHER ESTIMATES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO. Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Campaign speakers and others who have come in contact with politicians from all parts of the State, differ only in regard to the size of the Republican plurality that California will give to President Roosevelt next month. This plurality ranges from 30,000 to 50,000. All admit that the result is absolutely sure, and that neither the Democrats nor any other party has a ghost of a chance.

Some polls that have been made show a surprising strength for Roosevelt. One of the best-posted politicians in the State says the plurality will certainly be 40,000, and may go beyond that, should a large number of Democrats who have expressed disgust over the party leaders and party platform abstain from voting.

CONFIDENCE IN THE PRESIDENT.
THURSTON SOUNDS THE PEOPLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON (Mass.). Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "This has been a remarkable campaign," said Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska, who is stamping the State for the Republicans, this afternoon. "The people apparently have the utmost confidence in President Roosevelt, and seem more sure of his election than they have felt of that of any other President."

"Everywhere I hear of Democrats who are deserting Parker to follow Roosevelt, and especially all through the West. I find them impelled by diverse reasons. Conservative Democrats will not vote for him, because they are afraid he has not backbone enough to resist Hill or the Bryan elements in the party, while the old Bryan men will not vote for him because they regard him as the candidate of the plutocracy."

"Out our way, in Kansas and Nebraska, the Republicans are having their own way. New York and West Virginia are called doubtful States, but I cannot see it. Party feeling runs high in West Virginia, too."

FAIRBANKS IN IOWA.
SPEAKS BEFORE BREAKFAST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) Oct. 11. Crossing the Missouri from Omaha early this morning, Senator Fairbanks made his first speech of the campaign at Council Bluffs before he had taken his breakfast. He was met at the railroad station by a large number of citizens, most of his auditors being members of the press.

Gov. Cummins presided over the meeting, and presented Senator Fairbanks, assuring him in doing so that Iowa would give him a larger proportion of their votes than any other State in the Union. The Senator was received with loud cheers.

In his speech, Senator Fairbanks complimented in high terms his traveling companion, Judge Smith, who represents this district in Congress. He urged continued adherence to Republican principles.

"We are for the Republican party because the Republican party is for us," he said.

He continued by saying that more labor is employed today than ever before, and argued that if this condition was to be continued, the Republican party must be kept in power. He also referred to the diplomatic achievements of the present administration.

"Our diplomacy," he said, "is successful because it is founded on the principal of eternal righteousness."

After concluding his speech, Senator Fairbanks shook hands with the people. Judge Smith also made a brief speech.

In a few remarks, Gov. Cummins said he had been campaigning in the State for sixty days, and he expressed the opinion that not only all the Republicans, but many Democrats would vote for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

GOV. CUMMINS JOINS.

"TAG'S" GREAT SCHEME TO CATCH NEGROES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK. Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An address to negroes, advocating insurrection and revolution if the government fails to protect them in the use of the ballot, was issued by the Democratic National Committee as a campaign document today. Here are the first two paragraphs:

"When, in a republic, the government wrongfully takes from a man the privileges of suffrage it gives to that man the right of insurrection."

"Governments are established to preserve lives, secure franchises and enhance the fortunes of men. Any government that cannot protect its citizens or subjects in the exercise of their guaranteed constitutional rights has not the primary excuse for existing."

Council Bluffs, as did also Chairman Spence of the State Committee, National Committeeman Hart and others. In his speech here, Senator Fairbanks complimented Gov. Cummins as brave, patriotic and level-headed.

The State senator never before in the history of the session had there been as great prosperity in the farms and in the country as under the present national administration.

OTHER DAY STOPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENISON (Iowa) Oct. 11.—A stop of ten minutes was made by the Fairbanks train at Denison, and Senator Fairbanks spoke from the rear platform.

At Denison, the Fairbanks party left the train and spoke from a stand near the railroad station. This is the home of Secretary Shaw, and Senator Fairbanks referred to him as the worthy successor of Alexander Hamilton. He again spoke of the wisdom of supporting Republican policies, saying that the last Democratic administration had cost the farmers more than any mathematician could compute.

Other stops made today were at Rockwell, Fort Dodge, Webster, Iowa Falls and Waterloo, Marshalltown being the destination for the night.

LAST OF BUSY DAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MARSHALLTOWN, Oct. 11.—Senator Fairbanks made here tonight the last of a series of ten speeches delivered since leaving Omaha early this morning. The day was one of the most successful of the western tour, both in point of attendance and in point of interest. While there was no lack of enthusiasm at any of the meetings, Waterloo supplied the largest audience, and there was also the highest pitch of enthusiasm.

At Waterloo, the meeting was held in the public park. The crowd was on the outskirts, and the people so thronged the streets that it was almost impossible for the automobile in which he was seated to make its way to the park.

The most interesting event of the day occurred at Fort Dodge, where Senator Fairbanks spoke from the rear platform of the car. Observing the aged father of Senator Dooliver seated in a carriage in the rear of the crowd, Senator Fairbanks descended from the car at the close of his speech, and making his way through the dense crowd, sought out the old gentleman and greeted him heartily, engaging him in conversation while the train remained.

At Iowa Falls, Senator Fairbanks dwelt upon the prosperity of the farmers.

At Waterloo, Senator Allison and

CHINA BASIN FILL-IN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK. Oct. 11.—The Federal government has taken a hand in the investigation of the alleged poisoned-whisky case, to which many deaths in the vicinity of Tenth and Forty-sixth streets have been attributed. Following the arrest of a saloon-keeper by the police, and visits to all the saloons in the vicinity for the purpose of securing samples of the liquor sold there, all the revenue officers of the Second and Third Districts began an immediate search of the saloons, and stones were again visited, and many samples of the liquor were taken for analysis.

Coroner Scholer said today that an examination of the contents of the stomachs of two of the persons who died suddenly under mysterious conditions disclosed traces of wood alcohol. Representatives of several insurance companies have also begun an investigation of the many recent deaths in this section of the city.

Acting under instructions from the police, the saloon-keeper, taken into custody, Rudolph Fritzsche, a native of a little saloon at No. 723 Tenth avenue, was held without bail.

Fritzsche is charged with being a suspicious person, but the police say that in his saloon, it is suspected, whisky was sold which contained poison, and that this whisky is responsible for the many deaths that have occurred in the neighborhood recently.

Fritzsche only recently bought the place, which is of the variety general, described as a "tavern." Whisky is sold there in large quantities and at a low price. The leading brand was drawn from barrels upon the application of a purchaser. People in the neighborhood carry their flasks to the saloon and have them filled. Investigation of the numerous deaths in the neighborhood during the past two weeks showed that nearly all those who had died suddenly were customers of the "barrel house."

Fritzsche, after being taken to the station house, was quickly admitted to the hospital, and died yesterday, but the police followed, closely questioned the proprietor and closed the doors.

Twenty-five persons living in the neighborhood, all of them of middle age, have died within the past two weeks. The symptoms were in the main identical. They were characterized by the attendant physician in all cases as those of alcoholism.

It is also said that the precipitous resignation from the presidency of the Rock Island system was due to the offer of a better-paying position.

The young railroad men who left the Pennsylvania at Louisville and the Rock Island, and the Pennsylvania pennants on the Rock Island are understood to have been advised to refuse other places until the contemplated change takes place.

NOT COMMON CARRIERS.

DEFENSE OF PRIVATE CARS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO. Oct. 11.—Attorney Leo Mayer, representing Street's Western Car Line, made an unexpected move in the inquiry of the Interstate Commerce Commission today regarding private carriers.

He said that the commission's report that the car concern was not a common carrier, and that its officers need not divulge its methods of business, was erroneous.

It is also said that the precipitous resignation from the presidency of the Rock Island system was due to the offer of a better-paying position.

CARSON CITY (Nev.) Oct. 11.—The attorneys who filed a petition with the Supreme Court asking for a writ of prohibition against the Secretary of State and the state auditor to prevent them from pronouncing on the validity of the signatures of the nominees of the "rump" convention on the ticket under the head of "other party" nominations, withdrew their petition. The time was too short to serve the defendant, and have the case tried without absolutely disenfranchising the voters of the Democratic and Southern Nevada and in that case a partial election would cost over $200.

WASHINGTON. LAND FRAUD STATEMENT.

Secretary Hitchcock Discusses the Lacombe Decision.

Does Not Affect Government's Case, He Says.

Legislation for the Soldiers' Postal Business.

*BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Secretary Hitchcock made the following statement today in connection with the disposition of the Benson land fraud case in New York:*

"The action of Judge Lacombe of New York, yesterday, in refusing to sustain the defense of original jurisdiction in the Benson case does not materially affect the position or interests of the government in the California land fraud cases. After Judge Lacombe rendered his original decision, discharging Benson upon habeas corpus on the ground that the facts narrated in the indictment do not constitute an offense against the United States under section 400 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, the United States District Court for northern district of California, John J. de Haven presiding, after full argument on the question and with Judge Lacombe's opinion before it, decided that the facts narrated by Judge Lacombe do not constitute an offense against the United States under that statute, and granted a warrant of removal, as against Benson's co-defendants Hyde and Dimond, who has been arrested in San Francisco."

"Immediately thereafter, the defendants, Hyde and Dimond, sued out a writ of habeas corpus before the Circuit Court of Appeals at Washington, the United States W. M. Morris presiding, and that court, after full argument, and with the opinions of Judge Lacombe and Judge De Haven before it, held that the facts narrated by Judge Lacombe and narrated in the same indictment do constitute an offense against the United States under that statute, and refused to discharge the defendants. Hyde and Dimond, thereupon perfected an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and that appeal is now pending."

"Judge Lacombe had entered his original decision in the Benson case, and under the order of Judge Lacombe, Benson will be held under bail to await the result of the appeal."

"The appeal in the Hyde-Dimond case will be presented to a hearing by the government at the earliest date possible before the Supreme Court of the United States, and the decision of the court will be conclusive in both cases."

"The questions decided in the Benson case, and in the Dimond case, are not involved in the Oregon land fraud cases, and those decisions, therefore, have no bearing whatever upon them."

SOLDIERS' DEPOSIT BOOKS.

PROTECTIVE LEGISLATION.

*[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Brig.-Gen. George F. Milner, Paymaster General of the Army, in his annual report, recommends legislation, if possible, to the end that soldiers' deposit books should not be sold, pledged, assigned or transferred; except after a discharge and when accompanied by the soldier's final statement, and that such disposition shall be made a military offense, for which the soldier may be retained in the service.*

The Paymaster-General said: "Much complaint has been made by company commanders of the practice of money lenders, especially in San Francisco, to hold the deposit books, and only man on the security of their deposit books. He in wait for them when discharged, and confiscate or extort a large percentage of what is due them from the government, and thereby deprive the soldier one, and clearly akin to that which exists in any large seaport, where seamen are stripped of their hard-earned money by hoodlums, ruffians and scoundrels. The deposit book can be made without value in case of such use, it will be of benefit to the service, as well as to the soldier."

"The allowance for quarters of officers is recommended.

"A major-general's commutation allowance of $720, says the Paymaster-General, "will meet the requirements of a modern flat in any large city, and a conveniently-located and suitable house would be entirely out of the question."

"There is no doubt that an officer of any grade with a family content a suitable house in such places as New York, Washington, Chicago or San Francisco, for the amount of his pay."

Legislation is recommended increasing the allowance to expert riflemen and marksmen at the rate, respectively, of $3, $2 and $1 per month, during each year they qualify."

LABOR.

METAL WORKERS CAUSE PANIC.

THEY ASSAULT CHICAGO DETECTIVES WHO ARRESTED.

Heated Discussion Over Labor Troubles Leads to Shooting in First Place and After Being Taken Into Custody There Are More Shots, Endangering Many Lives.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—When released on bail today after having again been charged with being implicated in a shooting affray which caused a panic among men and women who crowded around the court, the metal workers who had been held for trial in the case of La Salle street, James J. Keppler, secretary of the International Sheet Metal Workers of America, and his two companions, Joseph Alvan, a carpenter, and James Papineau, assaulted the detectives who arrested them and one of the officers was severely injured.

The attack was so sudden that before the detectives realized that whether Keppler had been their prisoners so short a time before had attacked them, the three officers had been struck on several occasions with clubs.

After a hard fight, however, the three union men were re-arrested and lodged in jail again.

A heated discussion over labor matters led to a fight brought about the shooting in the first place, but it is not known which of the three fired the shots. When arrested, a revolver was found in Keppler's pocket.

Fully a hundred men and women were within range of the revolver when the shooting began, but the captor, who was hit in the arm by a bullet which rebounded from the wall, escaped without injury.

*BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
LONDON, Oct. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Lord Milner has resigned the high commissionership of South Africa on account of ill health, brought about by the prolonged strain in grappling with the situation which is daily becoming more difficult, owing to the financial and racial troubles of the country.*

NEWSPAPERS SILENT.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—With the single exception of the Morning Post, no London papers contain any hint of the resignation of Lord Milner as High Commissioner of South Africa, which Associated Press was able to announce yesterday.

Editor of Post endorses Lord Milner's great ability and refers to the extreme difficulty that will be experienced in finding a suitable successor. It mentions Lord Halifax of Burleigh and Sir Arthur Lawley as names that have been under consideration.

SENSATIONAL ESCAPE.

Son of Arkansas Congressman Gets Out of Asylum Where Put for Alleged Dark Purpose.

*BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The means of a rope made from strips of bed clothing, Attorney Arthur Neil, 24 years old, of Batesville, Ark., son of an Arkansas Congressman, made a sensational escape from St. Vincent's Asylum in St. Louis last night, and walked five miles northward, and five miles eastward and westward, before he was taken in charge by friends.*

Neil occupied a room on the third floor, which was fastened over the window. Two of these bars Neil removed with tools he had made from shoe shanks, and a large screw. After removing the bars, Neil firmly fastened his improvised rope and slid out.

Neil made sensational charges against certain members of his family, who reside in Batesville, Ark., and he will return to them for their alleged inhuman treatment of him when he secures his release from the hospital.

He chloroformed the sleeping passengers in the car, robbed them of their money and jewelry and then jumped from the car window. He returned here today and was arrested.*

Ramsey, who was fully attired, made a detailed confession after his arrest. Among other things, he admitted having deserted from the Twenty-eighth United States Infantry at San Francisco a few weeks ago. He says he is wanted in both San Baron Hayashi on Gen. Kourapatkin's Advance.

The Japanese Minister Sheds Light on Movement.

Doesn't Expect Strong Stand North of Liao Yang.

(By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The British government is closely watching to discern the cause and determine the effect of Gen. Kourapatkin's former visit to Japan.

Gen. Hayashi, the Japanese Minister here, conveyed such information as he possessed to Foreign Minister Lansdowne Monday. Baron Hayashi deprecates the ridicule that is being showered by the English press on Gen. Kourapatkin's proclamation.

"Even the assumption of an initiation," said the Japanese Minister, "must benefit the Russian forces. I have no doubt that Gen. Kourapatkin's move is a bluff, but I believe Marshal Oyama's lack of aggression is due to an attempt to lure Kourapatkin into a trap. The situation really seems quite simple.

Oyama, adopting the most cautious method, has been fortifying, step by step, and never advancing unless that the Japanese are everywhere retreating before the Russian advance.

Gen. Kourapatkin is moving on each side of the railroad in order to have an easy line of communication. He must have had enough difficulty in bringing up sufficient supplies and ammunition for his large army, which were depleted greatly at the battle of Liao Yang.

If he had been ready, he would doubtless have taken that advantage which belongs in all warfare to the aggressor and attacking.

Kourapatkin's favor if that he has taken a tremendous risk, and it is not for me to say whether he was justified or not.

It is very difficult to say that the Russian commandant has not been able to maintain communications open to attack, but only a very large force can adequately disturb such lines as Kourapatkin's power.

I have on good authority that he has got men standing 'nearly shoulder to shoulder along the railway.

I would not be surprised if Kourapatkin, instead of confirming a frontal advance, should launch the whole weight of his army against Kuroki's flanking force.

It would be a bold stroke, but the Russians are not accustomed to mounted fighting, and would be handicapped, even though superior in numbers.

Whatever happens whether Kourapatkin is allowed to remain in command unopposed or whether he is compelled to retreat, it is not likely that he will be successful.

DISCUSSION

Subject of Remarriage.Majority Would Have Canon

TOKIO. Oct. 11.—[By Asiatic Cable] Prince Charles Anton von Hohenzollern, a son of Prince Leopold of Nuremberg and a major in the Prussian army, who is going to the front as the representative of Emperor William by the Japanese army, said last night that if the deputy from North Carolina was correct in his argument as to the marriage vow, the church had laws as loose as those of South Dakota. Continuing, the Orthodox clergymen said: "I do not want to give the benediction of the church of God to a marriage as to which I am in doubt. I am in doubt about the passage in St. Matthew's gospel, but I take the position that what God cannot bless no priest, bishop or even a pope can bless."

Rev. G. B. Van Waters of Portland, Or., in a fervent address declared that the divorce reform of the church was far from more than Christ Himself required, and that the proposed bill as the majority report proposed would drive persons to other denominations. He advocated letting "well enough alone."

At this point the committee arose and was given permission to take up the matter later in the week.

VICTORIA (B.C.) Oct. 11.—The steamer Empress of Japan brings word from Tokio that much interest is being manifested in the statement that President Roosevelt proposes to bring the question of the war before The Hague tribunal. It is thought that America is the one nation strong enough to insist upon this solution of the controversy.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

An official announcement of the disaster issued today says:

"It is highly regrettable that no report in any form has been received of the fate of the other survivors. The sad event was made worse on account of the weather, which must have added greatly to the awful result caused by the explosion of the mine."

The Ho-Yen's complement was three hundred officers and men. Eleven of the crew had previously been detached for special duty.

the breaking of the forward

During the summer a number of Russians have been employed

FORTIFICATION OF OUR COAST.

Chamber of Commerce Will Take up the Project.

Need for Defenses Pointed Out by an Expert.

Representative Citizens Indorse the Enterprise.

The first step toward the calling of a National Fortifications Congress, to meet on this Coast, will be taken this afternoon by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Acting on the suggestion made by The Times last Friday, the chamber will discuss the advisability of requesting Gov. Parnell to ask the Governor of the Pacific Coast States to call a meeting in Los Angeles, during January or February of next year, all one or the other of the principal Pacific Coast cities, preferably Los Angeles, to consider the entire question of the national defense and particularly the fortifications needs of the Pacific Coast, and prepare and present to the Congress of the United States a memorial setting forth the conditions and needs and urging such appropriations as will enable us to defend, protect its towns and cities, protect its shipping and safeguard its present and future commerce.

The proposal will be brought before the chamber by B. C. Case. An open discussion is to follow his presentation of the case, and it is expected that at the close of the discussion Acting President Koepfli will refer the matter to a committee for recommendation, preliminary to action by the whole body. A great many business and professional men of prominence have signified their intention to be present at the chamber this afternoon.

Since the idea of the Fortifications Congress was brought forward by B. M. Lendrum, the enthusiasm for the project has been manifested by thinking men of all classes in the city, and wide discussion has been provoked.

Pacific Coast fortifications are advocated and justified entirely without reference to the war between Russia and Japan, or to the result of that war, whatever it may be. The proposed fortifications are necessary for all circumstances and for all times, and are advocated not as a sectional measure, but on broad national principles and as essential to the adequacy and safety of our defenses.

Salient points in support of better fortification were brought out yesterday in conversation with an engineer who has had much experience in marine works and who for a proper reason desired that his name be withheld. These among other suggestions were made:

ONLY FOUR FORTS.

The Pacific Coast from British Columbia to Mexico is 1600 miles long or more than 2000 miles in extent when indentations and bays are included. It is supplied with only four fortifications—at San Diego, San Francisco, mouth of the Columbia River, and entrance to the Puget Sound.

The fortifications at San Diego are of little value and would prove inadequate under great and sudden stress. Though not generally known, only one-fifth of the San Diego fortifications as proposed by the War Department have been built. Congress never having made appropriations for the carrying out of the plan. At San Francisco the fortification is moderate, and a sparsely armed of harbor protection and coast defense. At the entrance to the Columbia River the government defense is a small affair. At the entrance to Puget Sound the defense is, also, a small affair.

The Pacific Coast has, then, only one adequately-fortified spot in its entirety of more than 2000 miles. Improbable as the statement might sound, it is correct.

If true there is no great number of large harbors on this Coast, but that of itself is one of the best reasons for thoroughly fortifying those that exist.

To take the coast line State by State. On the California coast there are three first-class harbors and two of lesser importance, San Diego, San Pedro and San Francisco, and Port Harford and Monterey.

IN CASE OF ATTACK.

If this country were suddenly attacked from the Pacific by a hostile navy, for instance, Japan attacked San Diego Bay would be a once one of the most important and vulnerable points. This country being unprepared to meet the enemy in San Diego, and inadequately fortified, we would furnish the enemy's ships an ideal port of refuge for overhauling, refitting or coaling. The size and relative importance of the city of San Diego are such that the War Department, important enough to warrant the erection of large fortifications; but the bay is.

San Pedro, already an important port of commerce, and bound to become one of the great harbors of the Pacific Coast, is wholly without protection. While Los Angeles is too far inland to be sheltered from off San Pedro, the coast localities. War is always a possibility, no matter how remote it is. If we are to continue toward the possession of the Pacific, the erection of large fortifications; but the bay is.

Brainerd W. Lee: I am heartily in favor of the project. Its successful carrying out will be of great and lasting benefit to good government and the coast localities. STREET DEPARTMENT BUYS SAND ON RISING MARKET.

Records Show that Many City Supplies Are Purchased on Hurry up Orders—Street, Police and Fire Departments Hurry Most—Firemen Disregard Law.

A sharp advance in the price of sand for use on streets, as shown by figures on file in the Street Department, yesterday gave rise to a rumor in municipal circles that a new-fangled trust had successfully cornered the sand output, and that the city was compelled to buy on a rising market.

Duplicate demands on file in the Auditor's office show that on September 3 the street department purchased of C. T. Van Every 491 loads of white sand for 10 cents a load. During the first nineteen days of September the street department expended over $1200 in the purchase of sand.

The regulations show that the street department was so hard pressed for sand that it was impossible to get the order for the purchase through the regular channels; the committee clerk was compelled to procure orders from various contractors, but the purchases were all made on "emergency" regulations.

Street Superintendent Werder said that the demand for sand was so great that an increased demand was caused by an increased demand for sand, but that the 10-cent sand was handled by the city teams from the pit, and the 12-cent sand was delivered on the sand wagon to be placed in the "sanders" for "spinkling over" newly-paved streets.

This purchase of sand was all engrossed by the Billing Committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers. The first advised the purchase of sand at the right at the World's Fair. Mr. Workman, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for City Treasurer, said before leaving the City Hall that he had been told that the city would attend the Democratic City Convention.

Todd is happy. Councilman Todd arrived at the City Hall yesterday morning almost an hour later than his custom, a score of department clerks who waited to receive his O.K. on requisitions for supplies, were amply repaid by his arrival. He was beaming with happiness as he entered the room. He was being in personal supervision of the oiling and sanding of streets. We found that it was cheaper to pay $1 a cubic yard on the street than to get the sand for nothing at the pit and haul it with city teams.

But no explanation was offered why the requisitions for the purchase of sand were marked "emergency."

MORE "EMERGENCIES."

Requisitions on file in the Council committee rooms show that many supplies purchased by city departments during the month of September were marked "emergency" orders. Street Superintendent Werder found it necessary in sixty instances to secure the supplies at once, and to make out requisitions for the fire, police and park departments contracted on an average, two emergency bids each working day during the month. The police and park departments averaged one emergency bid per day.

On October 15 of the present year the City Council adopted the following rule governing the ordering and purchase of supplies:

"No supplies (except school water and library) are hereby notified that no supplies of any kind must either be ordered or purchased without first obtaining a requisition and having it approved by the appropriate committee.

That the prices for all supplies must be adopted by the Council before ordering the purchase for the same."

Before the head of a department can secure the necessary funds for the purchase of any supplies the committee clerk must ask for competitive bids from at least three dealers, and the amounts to be paid payable to the lowest.

But under the "emergency" rule the head of a department says that he may have the article at once; that it is impractical to get trifles on the article desired from more than one firm.

When the new purchasing system goes into effect, no supplies will be ordered for "emergency" orders. So many heads of departments protested to the Council that they could not get supplies on time that the council, after a long meeting, decided that the public should recognize "emergency" requisitions for extraordinary cases. It now appears that the extraordinary happens often.

Committee Clerk Goodwin yesterday said that no delays had been occasioned through asking for requisitions in the manner prescribed by the Council. The city is saving hundreds of dollars a week on the supplies purchased on which I am permitted to get competitive bids," said Mr. Goodwin.

"At first it was hard for the reason that we didn't know who to bid against each other, they said that they did not want to bid, but now the prices of most of the articles which we purchase regularly have dropped about 20 per cent.

Committee Clerk Goodwin yesterday said that most particular to stipulate, however, that she never said "damn" as Mr. Puckett alleged. In fact Miss Grossmeyer would rather die than say such a word.

She almost cried at the witness stand and said that before she stabbed him with her little silver dagger, Puckett grabbed her by the throat and dragged her all the way across the street.

She had come to him to demand an explanation for having called her a liar over the telephone.

Miss Grossmeyer wore a marquise ring and a Chinese stone bracelet or the brand guaranteed to bring good luck.

She explained in a low plaintive voice to the court yesterday, just after the insult offered by Puckett over the telephone he went by the house.

"He looked over at me with a regular sneer," gasped Miss Grossmeyer as she sat in the witness stand in the courtroom.

The charge was that Mickel, who is a pack peddler, met his employer, Obhile, on the street and without previous attack struck him with a bat and the defendant's conduct to mislead evidence to clear himself. He made a desperate failure of the attempt.

Then she went out and demanded that he apologize.

Telling about his grabbing her by the neck and dragging her, she said: "I was almost choking to death and I reached my kimono for my dagger and said, 'All right, it was hard for the reason that you didn't know who to bid against each other, they said that they did not want to bid, but now the prices of most of the articles which we purchase regularly have dropped about 20 per cent.

(NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.)

SAYS HE WROTE FOR "BEN HUR."

REMARKABLE CLAIM MADE BY HIGHLAND MAN.

Aged John Barton Ward, in San Bernardino Hospital, Had Memorable Career—Captured Burglar's Plunder Marks Him as Active Operator for Months.

SAN BERNARDINO. Oct. 11.—John Barton Ward, who in 1866 was secretary of the American legation at Constantinople, under Consul Morton, and later served in the same capacity under Consul Wallace, was taken to the County Hospital this afternoon from his little home at Highland to undergo a delicate operation to relieve a spinal trouble, which for years has been gradually carrying him toward the grave. Ward tells an unusual story, but his evident learning and culture are sufficient corroboration of it for his friends to place reliance on every word of the cracker.

When Grant appointed Consul Morton by Gen. Wallace, the latter had been at Constantinople but a short time when he conceived his famous story, "Ben Hur," and after the fall of Secular Ward in selecting dates. According to the latter, he gathered all the historical information in the first part of the book, writing most of it himself up to the crackpot.

Before the book was completed Ward resigned to take charge of the Palestine survey, made under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society of London, and the American Geographical Society to find the man of Palestine. This was undertaken in 1866, and is known as the Ward survey.

Later Ward became adjutant to the Khedive, his long residence in Egypt making him a man of fortune.

While in Egypt he met Gen. Gordon, becoming well acquainted with that lamented soldier. Later he removed to Italy, where he resided five years, taking his wife, and a short time after the American visitor visited Rochester, N. Y., his native city, and then coming West. Nine years ago he settled at Highland with his only son, his wife and son dying in the East and his wife on the outbreak of the Spanish-American War the son joined the army. He fell in Peking.

Ward is now 81 years of age, but has under him a vast knowledge of the Jesuit and Grecian, which so far as he is depicted shows a depth of knowledge and a fluent and graphic pen. He can repeat from memory all that part of "Ben Hur" which he chose to have written, and in addition on Egyptian mythology and kindred subjects he is to be reckoned.

BLACK THIEF CAUGHT.

Jim Wright, a Texas negro, was arrested this afternoon by Marshal Shay, who found among his effects stolen articles from numerous residences here and at Highland. From the large amount of negro's plunder it is evident he has been the most active thief operating here for months. He had his hide-out in the Salvation Army Home, where several crooks have recently been caught.

END OF WILL CONTEST.

Judge Cookling today denied the motion of the contestants for a new trial in the Daniel Morris will contest, holding the costs, which were reduced from $1250 to $1042. This ends the celebrated contest which was brought by the eastern heirs of Morey, a Redlands man, who committed suicide at San Diego, to the State Bar, and the club women and churches. The case was tried twice, the jury both times finding for the contestants, but the court set aside the verdicts.

NEW MINE MANAGER.

Wayne Darling of Denver has been appointed general manager of the Bagdad-Chico Mine, located in Lake Chamey Dene and other millions.

DEATH BREAKS FETTERS.

Rufus Bean, an unfortunate youth of good family, who for years has been one of the cast-offs of the town, a victim of the morphine habit, died at the County jail yesterday. His body had been taken to the institution, guided by the police, who found him raving in the gutter. Several times Bean had been committed to jail at his own request, and each time he had bound himself and each time left the jail after long terms, determined to go to sea, believing that he had completely recovered from the vice, but before he could carry out his intention he would again fall.

WIFE'S STRONG PLEA.

C. A. Shook, formerly employed by the Santa Fe, was arrested this morning for stealing a watch. He was drunk when placed in jail. A letter from his wife at Philadelphia was found in his pocket pleading with him to return to her and his three children, and said "even if you have no shoes, come home, for here you will be welcome."

COLTON.

TWO HURT BY RUNAWAY.

COLTON, Oct. 11.—The male team of the Colton Grocery Company scored another runaway, with results much more serious than usual. Mark Reynolds, the driver, was thrown out of the muzzles and cut in two. The young son of F. G. Mitchell was run down, the hub of a wheel cutting a terrible gash in one cheek. He was taken to the Colton Hospital, where the wound was dressed.

The driver was found lying by the roadside. His head was severely bruised, and a deep cut extended across the top of his head. It was thought that the injuries will require an operation.

H. M. Stone and J. B. Hanna have been sent as delegates from the Colton Courts, No. 49, Independent Order of Foresters, to the annual conventions in San Diego this week. The Colton Court was the fifth to be organized in this State.

This afternoon a special engine with freight car attached arrived in Colton over the Southern Pacific, bringing a Mexican, who, in attempting to beat his way over the desert, had fallen under a rock, and his leg was cut off between the ankle and knee. He was taken to Riverside to the County Hospital. The Mexican suffered pain terribly. He is about 20 years of age, and refused to divulge his name.

REDLANDS, Oct. 11.—The residents of Lugonia district, able backed by people living in other parts, are protesting loudly against a colony of tents pitched in that section of the city bounded approximately by Lugonia street, San Bernardino avenue, Texas street, and Orange street. The camp fall to attract attention as people come into the city on the Traction line. Tents have been pitched in other places just south and are mainly occupied by a class of temporary residents who can best be described as "squatters." The subject will be taken before the City Trustees.

Hall maintained that he did follow them away, but the court was convinced otherwise by the testimony of the owner, and adjudged them guilty. They were fined $5 apiece, with the alternative jail sentence.

ORANGE.

PAROCHIAL CORNER-STONE.

ORANGE, Oct. 11.—The corner-stone of the German parochial school building was laid Sunday afternoon with ceremonies according to the rites of the Evangelical Lutheran church, which controls most of the wealth of this section. The members assembled at their church, the women and children occupying seats in the gallery, the men on the other side crowding the room. The laying ceremony opened with a prayer followed by a grand old hymn, chanted in their mother tongue by the entire congregation, an excellent choir leading, with piano accompaniment.

Rev. Jacob Koenig delivered the address, also in German, in which he gave an interesting history of the former school. As early as 1850 the Lutherans established a school with nine pupils in the little old building which also served for church, and which was recently pulled down to make room for this new structure.

Mr. Koenig of Anaheim, in English, extolling the merits of early religious training in schools and congratulating the Lutherans of Orange upon their successful achievement in this work.

The congregation then passed out to the grounds near by, to witness the laying of the corner-stone, which contained the usual collection of documents and pavers, put in place by Mr. Koenig. The services closed with another hymn in German, sung in the open air, so simple and impressive that one could scarcely believe it all to be outside of old Germany.

HERE AND THERE.

At a meeting of the W.C.T.U. yesterday it petitioned to the City Trustees asking that the Liquor-License ordinance be amended to allow only hotels of 100 rooms or more to sell liquors with their meals, instead of 50, as the trustees say it must be.

Miss Rockhold, known in musical circles as Norma Roca, left today for New York. She will take up church work in that city, and is planning later to go into opera. Her stay is indefinite, and will be at least a year.

G. R. Dangerfield, G. Stanley Wilson and P. H. Ronseel left this morning to the Forests High Court at San Diego, representing Court Califormia, I.O.P.

The meeting of the Riverside County Medical Association last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Outwater on Hidalgo Place was well attended by the county medics and proved interesting.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

THE quaint home of Charles F. Lummins has been sheltering a talented visitor in the person of Miss Sharlot Hall of Dewey, Ariz. Miss Hall is one of the famous writers of poetry of the West, and though she lives and has lived most of her life far away from civilization on a ranch in Arizona, she has grasped Nature's true message, and gives it to the public in poetry, which is seeming with the instinct of the West. Her poem, "Out West," which was published in the Out West magazine's first issue under that title, was copied in nearly all the large papers of the United States, and was so strong and splendid that Mr. Lummins received a long letter from President Roosevelt, singling its praises, as having caught the true spirit of the broad, free expanses of the western country. Miss Hall's short stories are good, and already a number have been published in the Atlantic Monthly, and one has just been accepted by the Ladies' Home Journal. Miss Hall with her mother, Mrs. M. M. Hall, have been spending several weeks as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lummins. This is the first time in twenty-two years that Mrs. Hall has been away from Arizona since first she came across the plains from the east to her home on the ranch near Dewey.

A gorgeous drawn-work cloth was spread over the piano, and in the center was a giant bowl containing a great cluster of yellow poppies. Silver candelabra lights were shaded with fluffy yellow poppies, and from chandelier to the corners of the table were tablecloths of great airy French bows. Yellow bows were on the table, and places were marked with dainty booklets in the form of bells, on whose surface were printed wedding bibles. About the room were various filled with lamps and poppies. Covers were laid for twelve.

Wed at Trinity.

Hamilton and James Edgar Hamilton being the officiating parties. The service was held in the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Ninth and Grand avenues, and Rev. E. P. Ryland, the pastor, was the officiating minister. The bride was a handsome gown of white satin de Paris, elaborately trimmed with lace and insertion. A small of softest tulle was worn with the costume, and in her dusky hair, nestled a tiny orange blossom. She carried a showy bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair ferns, and after her mother's wedding handkerchief, which graced a like ceremony just forty-one years ago. She was attended by Miss Metta Oyley, an old friend, who was attired in blue chiffon and white lace-trimmed white carnations. The little flower girl was Miss Ruth Ashley, who wore a pink dress, a white sash, with a huge sash of blue, and with blue ribbons in her hair. A basket tied with tulle was on her arm, from which she strewn rose petals, in the way of the wedding. Both the parties of smilax at the alter were held high by two men in white.
